REPORT ON HOME MISSIONS.

The Home Mission Board is located in Atlanta Ga., and its field of operation is the territory embraced in the Southern Baptist Convention together with the island of Cuba. It sustains about the same relation to our State Mission Boards as the latter sustains to the Boards or Executive Committees of our District Associations. It works in connection with our State Boards both in the collection and distribution of its funds; but it also works among the destitute on our western frontier and among the Indian tribes of the West and among the negroes in some parts of the South, and among the foreign population of some of the larger cities. Bro McAlpine is the missionary of this Board and is doing fine work in this state among the negro preachers and deacons, holding institutes for them. Bro J. M Brittain is doing a similar work in Georgia.

From the fifty-first annual report made to the Southern Baptist Convention at its meeting in Chattanooga, Tenn., last May, we gather the following

REPORT ON STATE MISSIONS.

Your Committee to whom was referred the subject of State Missions beg leave to submit the following:

The Mission fields comprise State, Home and Foreign. All that region beyond the seas, and including Mexico, constitute the foreign field. The Home field is composed of destitute places in the States that compose the Southern Baptist Convention, among the Indians and in Cuba. The State field is confined to Alabama alone, and the Board into whose hands this work is placed is known as 'The State Board of Missions.' We have been thus definite from the fact that some of our brethren confound Home Missions with State Mission. The term 'Home' is used to designate the field from 'Foreign.'

The successful mission work depends largely on the work done in the State;—that is, in proportion as our State is occupied and thoroughly organized will Home and Foreign Missions be augmented. Hence the basal work depends upon the State work.

The great evangelizing power of the Gospel is found in missionary work. In fact all Christian work may be termed, in a sense, Missionary work,—our Pastors and all Christian workers are missionaries. God's first mission to Earth, after the Sin of Adam, was in the interest of this fallen man and his posterity. "And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God." No sooner did man sin than the Creator become concerned about his future state. Therefore from the fall of man till time shall be no more this divine interest will continue. 'Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel, beginning at Jerusalem,'—this is the divine command. It is plain and explicit; as given to the Apostles, so it is given to us. There can be no dodging this great responsibility. Now then, what is our duty as members of Baptist Churches? We reply give of our means to send the Gospel to the poor, the needy, the ignorant at home and abroad. We should be liberal. Isaiah says: the liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand. (22ch 8v) "Thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee" (Deut. 16ch 17v.) What did our Savior say about giving? "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20ch 35v.) Let us then as Christians come up to the full measure of our duty as members of the Baptist denomination, and be liberal in our contributions for all mission work, that the Gospel may be preached to all people, that our missionaries, who are giving their time and talents to the spread of the Gospel may have a sufficiency to support themselves and families, that the coming of God's kingdom may be hastened and His name be honored among all the nations. 'Thou shalt open thy hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, to thy needy in my land' (Deut. 15ch 11v.) Respectfully submitted,

M. CODY, SR., Chairman.

The foregoing reports were tabled to be called up as special order of business at 9:30 Thursday.

Called for report of the Committee on Ministerial Education.
W. P. Stewart read the

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

There is no subject of more importance than Ministerial Education and never has there been a time in the world's history, when there was greater need of power in the pulpit. The progress in Arts and Science naturally calls for advanced ministerial education. While we would not forget the valuable pioneer work of our brethren, who had not the advantage of a College-training, and they have accomplished much, yet there remains much to be achieved. They have gone into wastelands and preached the word with power; they have built churches and, with tears and prayers laid the foundation of our schools and colleges, that our present generations may be blessed with opportunities they had not. Feeling keenly the need of these institutions, reared and built after hard-fought battles, they labor to support them and broaden their usefulness.

It is our solemn duty to encourage and support the work of Ministerial Education. The Lord says that many of the noble and learned were called, but they had excuses, and it seems that nearly all of our Preachers are poor and self-educated. They are unable to prepare and fit themselves for their grand work and yet no other investment could possibly pay such dividends as that of educating pious young men, called of God to preach his Gospel. We have now 20 young men in Howard College and in many more are ready to prepare themselves for the Master's work, if the means were furnished. And it is true also that the Baptists of our Association are ready to assist with their means whenever this important matter is properly brought before them. Pastors of the Columbia Association, keep the subject of Ministerial Education before your churches and let us double the number of our students at Howard College before the next session.

REPORT ON DENOMINATIONAL LITERATURE.

We your committee beg to report as follows on Denominational Literature:

This being a reading age, every Baptist family should be supplied with religious books and papers, and be careful to see that none of the trashy stuff now afloat be allowed a place in our homes, which we fear is too frequently done. Baptists will make no mistake to give the Bible the first place in their homes, which should by all means be studied with diligence and prayer, besides it is a duty enjoined on us all by our Savior (St. John 5th 39v.) It is of vast importance that other good literature be allowed a place in our houses, as such we would recommend to our Baptist brethren of this Association the Alabama Baptist specially. In it we have the denominational organ of the state. It is published in the city of Montgomery for the low price of one dollar and a half per annum. It contains a weekly statement of the field work, the events of our different institutions of the state. And to those who desire to read more we conscientiously recommend the Texas Baptist Standard, published at Waco, Texas. The Christian Index published at Atlanta, Ga. And Mission Journal, published at Richmond, Va., and other good denominational papers, which would consume too much space to mention here. All of which is within easy reach of those desiring to read. These papers give us information of our denominational work and needs, and ought to be in every Baptist home, in all this land, for we are always better after reading good books and papers written by inspired pens and cultivated Christian minds.

To the Sunday Schools we recommend the Southern Baptist Convention Series, published at Nashville, Tenn., and sold by J. B. Collier, Secretary, Montgomery, Ala. Brethren of the Columbia Association: Beware of the trashy literature now afloat and for sale in our country, it is demoralizing, it is ruinous.

Minutes of the first day's session were read and adopted.

J. R. Keyton offered the following

REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS

The duty of evangelizing the world was made imperative by the Son of God more than 1800 years ago, and the command is still as binding upon the churches as it was the day it fell from the Master's lips.

The Christian dispensation was ushered in by Missionaries. John the Baptist was a Baptist sent from God; or in other words, he was a Missionary Baptist for the word Missionary means one sent.

The next Missionary of which we read was an Angel from God sent to the shepherds, which said "Behold I evangelize unto you great joy which shall be unto all people."

Then Christ declares that he was sent by the Father; therefore Christ was a missionary and we are to follow his example. Then we have twelve missionaries sent out by Christ, which we call Apostles. Now if we would build upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ being the chief corner stone, we must be Missionaries.

Our Foreign Mission Board is located in Richmond Va., Dr. R. J. Willingham is our Corresponding Secretary, and is doing all in his power to carry out the commission of Christ, to preach the gospel to every creature. We have about 86 Missionaries now working in China, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Mexico and Japan. Our present membership in Foreign fields is 4,295; S. S. scholars 1,713; Houses of worship 30. We also have about 75 native helpers who are doing good and faithful work. These converts from our Foreign fields, though they are poor, yet they contributed liberally of their means. They contributed last year $5,553.20. While the work on some of our Foreign fields has been slow and difficult yet we have great reason to rejoice and take courage, for the Lord has abundantly blessed most of our work.

Respectfully submitted,

ARIS ARMSTRONG, JOHN R. KEYTON W. D. KNOWLES.

REPORT ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

It is only a few years ago that very few Churches within the bounds of this Association reported active Sunday Schools. From the letters of these 31 Churches we find that a majority of them now take a lively interest in this grand work and that they have five, energetic Sunday Schools in 22 of the 31. That the Sunday School work is the work of the Master is a fact that cannot be controverted and the most invincible proofs are the numerous accessions to church membership from the S. S. as reported by our Churches.

The command of the Lord to the disciples to teach all nations whatsoever he had commanded them, also comes to us. Therefore, it becomes our imperative duty to teach the word of God, and we can do it best in the organized Sunday School.

We would urge every Church without a S. S. to go to work at once and show yourselves approved workmen. Get in line and shoulder to shoulder with all the other Churches of this Association bring up at the next session a full report of an active Sunday School.

Respectfully submitted,

B. A. FORRESTER, J. A. CAMERON, J. M. BAXLEY

Report on Ministerial Education was again tabled for Friday. B. G. Farmer read the REPORT ON EDUCATION.

On page 11 of the minutes of the last session of this Association my name appears as chairman of a Committee on Education; it therefore is expected of me to write something about Education to be submitted to this session of such Association.

The purpose of every undertaking and the discussion of every subject by this body and the plan to attain the end determined by this Association from these discussions, are for the betterment of mankind, for the edification, the building up of boys and girls, men and women in their social, moral and religious relations in our bounds in these midsts and within the length of our cable too.

Education builds up and edifies, but it is becoming in the writer to say that every educated man or woman is not so trained and prepared that he or she can fill and occupy high and important places in these responsible relations; neither is it a fact that every man and woman is unfitted for places of trust and disqualified to occupy and enjoy the emoluments of offices of honor and distinction because such ones are not learned in books and the branches of science as taught in our schools and colleges.

In the early ages of our civilization it was education and the sole purpose of educational intent to develop the muscle, the brawn, the physique of pupil—cultivating for war and endurance the entire physical man except the mind, leaving this "dynamo of the human make up" as its truthfully called, untutored, unlearned and in the rough surrounded by every other force or power of the human being developed and shaped for all the important purposes sought by education. With us in this advanced age it is easy to tell the worth or rather the lack of such an education for we know that when the emergency came and educated men were called to the front and the order given to do the work their education qualified them to perform, the great mind power, rough, undeveloped and dull, was lacking to contrive and direct the consummation of what the brawn was able to accomplish if judiciously directed. And so we see that education was a failure. But education the people must have; so in a later age of our civilization the ends desired and attained in the education of the people was a high state of the development of the mind to the entire exclusion of every other physical force of the human being and in this condition the educated were called to duty and while the mind was able to plan and contrive, the other human forces weak, wasted and puny were unequal to the occasion and thus it was that education was again a failure. And so we must know that every important element of our being must be educated, must be trained, must be developed—the muscle, the mind and the heart must be taught. The muscle and the brawn must be taught and developed and men and women must be strong on this line so that a trained and educated brain when planning and laying out its purposes may have its proper support in its execution. Also we need and must have the heart developed in the fear of God to high and noble purposes that strong men in mind and body may be guided and guarded by all that is pure and holy.

Report was adopted.

The Association then adjourned at 4 o'clock to meet again at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

CONSTITUTION OF COLUMBIA ASSOCIATION

ARTICLE 1 This union of churches shall be known and distinguished by the style and name of "The Columbia Baptist Association."

ART. 2 The object of the Association shall be to combine our Christian efforts for the purpose of carrying the appointed means of grace to dying men and women, and to regard all churches united under the constitution with a vigilant eye for good. Her principal object shall be to promote the declarative glory of God by extending His kingdom of grace on earth through the medium of preaching the gospel, and all other means within reach of a working christian organization.

ART. 3 This Association shall be composed of representatives from the churches as follows: Each church having one hundred members or less shall be entitled to two messengers and to one additional messenger for every fifty members or fractional part thereof in excess of one hundred. But in the business of the Association whenever the messengers from any church desire it the vote shall be taken by churches in which case each church shall be entitled to two votes.

ART. 4 The messengers when convened shall organize themselves into a deliberative body, by the appointment of a Moderator and Clerk, and these officers shall be chosen by ballot, or otherwise as the body may decide at each annual meeting, and continue in office until their successors are chosen. Should a y event transpire, so as to prevent any annual meeting of this Association, the Moderator shall have the power to call a meeting at any time and place, which meeting when convened, shall have all the rights of a regular meeting.

ART. 5 This Association shall not interfere with the rights of the churches of which she is composed. She shall regard them as independent bodies in all measures of internal government, and shall act in an advisory council assuming no authority but what is expressly delegated to her by the churches, or evidently implied by the very nature of the compact. But she nevertheless claims authority over her own members, the messengers of the churches and in justice and propriety must have power to withdraw from and disown all churches that depart from the principles of the compact by holding opinions repugnant to the doctrines of the Scriptures, or are disorderly in practice.

ART. 6 Newly constituted churches or churches dismissed from Associations of the same faith and order may be admitted into this union on their sending up messengers to an annual meeting with a petition, and those messengers agreeing to the abstract principles adopted by the Association.

ART. 7 The churches in this union shall transmit to every annual session of the Association written communications specifying the names of messengers, members in fellowship, baptised, received by letter, dismissed, excluded, restored since last session, and such other information as the churches may deem important, which shall be read and minuted accordingly.

ART. 8 This Association shall have a fund, supplied by voluntary contribution of the churches; and all moneys thus contributed or otherwise received shall be transmitted through the finance committee to the treasurer who shall be elected by ballot or otherwise, as the body may decide, and hold his office during the pleasure of the Association.

ART. 9 It shall be the duty of the Clerk to keep a regular file of printed minutes of every session of this body and deliver over the same to his successor in office.

ART. 10 This Association when convened shall be governed by proper rules setting forth the duties of officers and such other matters necessary for a deliberative body and may alter or amend such rules from time to time by a majority vote of the body in annual session.

ART. 11 The executive committee shall attend to such duties as may be imposed upon it by the Association and when the Association is not in session this committee shall have power to fill vacancies that may occur.

ART. 12 This Constitution may be altered or amended at a regular meeting of the Association by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, provided such alteration or amendment is not disapproved of by a majority of the churches in their written communications to the next annual session of the body.

DECORUM.

1st It shall be the duty of the Moderator to preside over the deliberations of the Association in session, preserve order, submit motions or other matter and announce results when passed on by the body. He may have the same right of speech as any other member provided the chair be occupied, but is not allowed to vote, except the body be equally divided, in which case he shall give the casting vote

2nd. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to keep a correct record of the minutes of the proceedings in a clear and concise manner and immediately after the adjournment of each annual session to prepare a copy of the same for distribution to the churches for the payment of which he shall draw his draft upon the Treasurer of the Association

3rd. The Treasurer shall keep a correct account of all monies coming into his hands, as well as the manner in which it is distributed. He shall only pay out money upon the order of the Association in session or the Executive Committee in vacation. He shall render an annual statement to the Association of all funds received and disbursed by him showing the balance, if any, remaining on hand

4th This Association shall not consider any query or other matter effecting the churches unless they have first endeavored to solve the same and failed; nor any difficulty between churches unless they have pursued the direction contained in the 18th chapter of Matthew, and have not been able to bring about a settlement and reconciliation, in which case the Association shall take such matters under consideration, and act upon them or not at her discretion

5th Every motion made and seconded shall come under the observation and be acted upon by the body, except it be withdrawn by the member who made it

6th Every person who speaks in debate shall rise from his seat and address the Moderator and shall not be interrupted while speaking, unless he depart from the subject in debate

7th No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject without leave of the body. And it shall be a violation of these rules for any member to abruptly break off or absent himself without leave of the body; and if he does so he shall be liable to reproof by the Moderator

8th. The Clerk, Treasurer and all members of the standing committees shall be entitled to the same privilege of speaking and voting as other members except in cases where the interests of any individual church is to be affected by the matter at issue. In this latter case they may express their views but shall not be allowed to vote

9th These rules may be altered or amended by a majority of the members in session
